Chief of Police Lyle E. Smith has issued a back-to-school traffic reminder for all motorists urging caution and alertness as thousands of youngsters will be returning to school in the near future.

Motorists should exercise extreme caution around schools and playgrounds and on all residential streets. The speed limit in school and playground areas may be 20 miles per hour. Residential streets are usually 25 miles per hour with speed limits of 30 miles per hour being in effect on many feeder streets leading to major arterials.

Motorists were reminded too, of the need to stop for school buses which are either loading or unloading passengers. All vehicles must stop whenever a bus is displaying alternating flashing lights front or rear, signaling loading activities.

One true cure for narcos

By: Andre Young

Drug addicts are cured in the Nation of Islam.

Since returning to this city a little more than a year ago, I have stood up and spoken for what I consider to be the truth about my Black Brothers and Sisters and our plight as a people.

It isn't unusual for me to hear that some "Colored Folk" and "Negroes" are "afraid of me." That is, they are afraid of bearing witness to the truth of whatever I may decide to say.

It is quite a common occurence to observe in Tacoma many young and old Black people "high" on some kind of drugs or narcotics.

I don't believe that any amount of Methadone Maintenance treatment and/or psychotherapy of any kind will cure Black drug addiction or Alcoholism.

"KNOWLEDGE IS POWER"

I believe and will testify to the curing powers of self knowledge as taught by the Honorable Elijah Muhammad and his Nation of Islam.

It could be that Black people in this country have been driven insane by the rigors of oppressive and repressive "doses" of white racism. I consider it a "Natural" consequence as victims of racism that Black people console themselves in the mire of drugs, alcohol, robberies, rapes, and murders.

I am not advocating nor justifying our insane criminal activities, which we have learned from this society. But I do believe we can overcome our present quadmired condition by adhering to learning about and loving our Black selves more individually and collectively.

There is no secret about the Nation of Islam's success with drug-addicts. The cure is in the "doses" of self-knowledge as given and taught in the Messenger's books: How to Eat to Live, Message to the Black Man, and The Fall of America.

We have an awful lot of folks taking drugs in their vain efforts of trying to get over.

It appears to me that we're in awfully bad shape in our attempts to get over, when the other fella is shooting rockets to the moon.

We're more interested in shooting dope, clapping our hands and stomping our feet for answers to our individual and collective problems, when we should be building something other than religious facilities.

A few people have gotten angry at me for speaking out against the inaction of the NAACP and Preachers, who aren't able to solve nor who haven't made any effort to solve some of our problems. I suggest they get angry at the drugs and drug dealers, who are destroying our people!

I have no reason to be optimistic about the survival of Black people, when several generations of the young have established a thorough dependency on drugs. The future belongs to and will be inherited by the brave and the morally strong and not by the doped-up, victimized, strung-out fakers and jivers of our people.

The drug epidemic we face may not be solved by self-awareness and transactional-analysis alone but as the Bible puts it: "ye shall know the truth and the truth shall set you free."

OLD AGE IS that time of life when you know all the answers and nobody asks you the questions.

workshop news

The Black Culture Workshop at Washington State Reformatory, in Monroe, Washington on Saturday, August 4, 1973, sponsored a "Black Awareness Day" celebration. Each of the five adult correction institutions has had an opportunity of sharing their concepts and aspirations with brothers and sisters from the outside through these gatherings. Monroe's affair was the largest held to date. According to the correction's officer handling the sign-in sheets, three hundred and eighty-three signed the list.

Guests began arriving around 10:30 a.m. As they approached the huge buff colored building on a hill, with the winding road that leads to the door of the Administration Building, one could admire the beauty of the flowers along the roadside. The guests had to be given an orientation on the procedures to be followed. Cameras and tape recorders had to be opened up for inspection. After signing in each person emptied his pockets on a tray, and passed through an electronic scanner. Your belongings were returned and you proceeded through a sliding door of steel bars. When fifteen or twenty people had passed through, the door was closed and you realized you were now inside the walls. Proceeding to the auditorium you went through two more sliding doors.

On the inside you were greeted by smiling inmates with red, black, and green arm bands, who escorted you past tables laden with soul food: Barbecue beef, fried chicken, collard greens, roast turkey, potato salad, and appetizing desserts. The feast was prepared in Seattle by volunteers donated by organizations, churches and individuals from Seattle and Tacoma. This was a joint community operation coordinated in Seattle by Operation Emergency Center, in Tacoma by Adult Offender Outreach of the Tacoma Urban League and liaison and coordination between the institution and community was handled by a "Community Worker from Office of Region 5, State Department of Social and Health Services." The 144th Transportation Battalion, Washington State National Guard provided the thermo cans to keep the food hot in transporting.

The stage was arrayed with four seven-by-seven back drops, consisting of a Black Liberation Flag. A painting of a native African man and woman in primitive dress. In the center was a pseuda-replica of "The Universal Man" (original by Thomas Simms), flanked on the other side by a Black man and woman in Mod "Super Fly" styles.

Theme for the gala affair was "Unity"(Umoja). The words of the Vice-Chairman, James L. Davis summed it up when he said, "In order for us insert our own concepts. Unity begins first with self. Before we can unify anything or anybody, we must first be at peace with self. There are seven levels of Unity: Self, Family, Community, Neighborhood, Nation, Race and World. As you can see we have a long way to go."

Through this paper we will keep you informed about future activities of the BCW's. If you would like additional information concerning ways you can be involved in programs of the BCW's, please contact Bob Pigford--593-2023.

TWO GOLFERS were having their play ruined by a pair of women in front of them who were new to the game and were taking forever on each hole. The climax came when the two men arrived at the ninth hole only to find one of the women stretched out on the green taking a sun bath while the other thrashed madly about in some tall weeds nearby.

"Don't you think you might at least help your friend find her ball?" snarled one of the men.

"Oh, she's not looking for her ball," smiled the woman. "It's her club she lost."

CHILDREN SHOW GREAT INGENUITY

How ingenious can children be? Some entertaining answers to this question are being created by children all over America, who are sharing creative games, puzzles and projects with their family and friends. They're also finding out how to deal with such things as anxiety, expectation, fear and trust. At the same time they are discovering how a television program is put together. And, they are learning how to enjoy reading a newspaper.

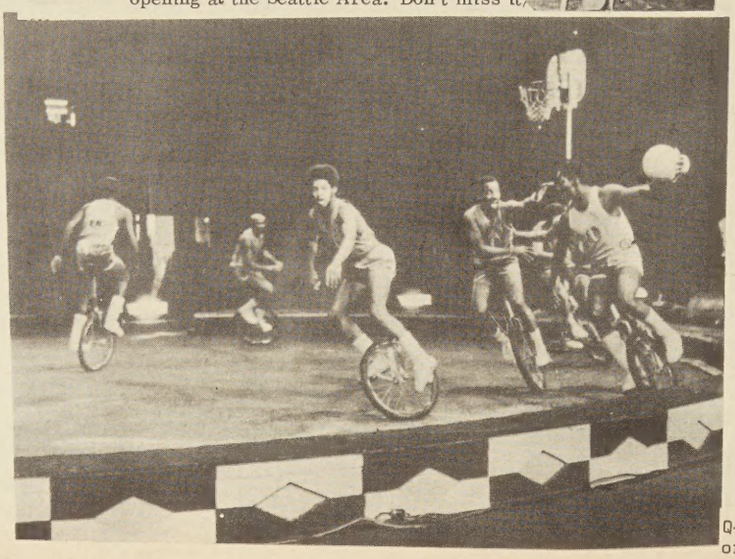
The paper they're reading is "Around the Neighborhood," a new, nonprofit newsletter from "Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood," public television's critically acclaimed television program for children aged 3 to 8. In simple words and colorful pictures, it tells them about their favorite characters and guests who appear on the program. It provides highlights of upcoming shows, expands upon the education themes developed in the program, gives them a behind-the-scenes view of the studio, and presents lots of ideas for creating their own toys and games. An entertaining record or poster comes with every issue.

In each edition, sections are devoted to the parent, pointing up the object of each article, and its effect on the child in the hope of providing a way to better communication between parents and their children.

"Around the Neighborhood" has carried articles on the "Mister Rogers" children's opera, "Potato Bugs and Cows," and "Daniel, the Tame Tiger," a lovable puppet from "The Neighborhood of Make Believe." Opera singer Francois Clemmons, a frequent guest on the show, and astronaut Al Worden have also been featured.

To put a child on the subscription list of this nationally distributed publication, send his name and address and $2.00 to cover the cost of mailing and production to "Around the Neighborhood," P.O. Box 136, Dept. B, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15230.



TIGUE TIGUE NAN
(CHICKEN PEANUT STEW)

1 broiler-fryer chicken
1 medium onion, chopped
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon curry powder
6 cups water
1 cup creamy peanut butter
2 tablespoons tomato paste
Cooked rice

Cut chicken into serving pieces and place in large kettle. Add onion, salt, pepper and curry powder. Stir in 1 cup of water, bring to boil, cover, reduce heat and boil gently about 15 minutes. Gradually add another cup of the water to peanut butter stirring until smooth. Add to chicken. Add remaining 4 cups water and tomato paste. Cover, continue cooking 30 minutes or until chicken is tender. Serve in soup bowls topped with spoonfuls of hot rice. Makes 6 to 8 servings. Note: Mrs. Jansen used Skippy peanut butter in preparing the Tigue Tigue Nan. For a spicier flavor, add ¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes.

Dear Tac-Vac

by: Ted Jefferson

Dear TAC VAC:

Q--Are Vietnam veterans eligible for business loans under the GI Bill?

A--No. However, the Small Business Administration has a loan plan for Vietnam Era veterans which provides approximately the same entitlement as available under the GI Bill to World War II and Korea veterans. Veterans will be eligible for business loans of up to $50.000.00 for 15 years, federal government contract and management consulting firms. Specific information may be obtained from one of the 85 field offices located in the major cities of the U.S. Puerto Rico and Guam.

Q--My uncle retired from the Army several years ago for disability, and has given up a portion of his retired pay in favor of VA compensation. He has since worked under civil service and will retire soon. He says he will receive four government payments at age 62. Is that possible?

A--Yes. At age 62 he could qualify for Social Security benefits at the reduced rate, military retired pay, VA compensation and civil service retired payment.

Q--I still carry my World War II National Service Life Insurance "V" policy. Can I get additional coverage if I already have $10,000.

A--Yes. Public Law 188.92nd Congress, allows veterans holding such policies to use their insurance dividends to buy additional paid-up NSLI.

Q--If a veteran is taking a flight training or correspondence course under the GI Bill but doesn't provide support for his wife and children are they eligible for a portion of his GI Bill allowance?

A--No. The allowance cannot be apportioned for dependents of servicemen or for those veterans in less than half-time training, in flight or correspondence courses since the apportionable amount is limited to the additional amount payable for dependents. No dependents' allowance is authorized in those instances.

Address all questions concerning veterans to: Tacoma Veterans' Action Center, 1321½ South "K" Street, Tacoma, Washington 383-4008.

Roller Derby Provides Thrills
Just Like Any Other Sport

This is Roller Derby, the most talked about sport in America. Promoters all over the country are intrigued by this game, a sport with a more artistic skating style of ice hockey on roller skates, skating around a masonite bank track.

The game is unique. Sixteen participants are on each team; eight are women and eight are men. Sizes vary depending on one's ability, this is a sport where little people are not discriminated against because of their size. Tony Roman, who stands at a mere 5 feet 6 inches, is so agile and versatile he is very valuable to the team.

There are eight periods to a game, with the women opening the first period and the men following and alternating each period. Only five players open for each team.

On the average speed, they skate from 20 to 25 miles an hour, but on a single whip or a double whip, players can exceed 40 miles an hour.

to surpass the opposition, and for each player the jammer passes a point is awarded. The pivot skater can also score once a jammer has started the play.

Blockers are the only special players on the team that cannot score.

The sport itself draws and sells like, "Mom's good ole Apple Pie" with it's specific ingredients that spices the enchantment with ecstacy, filling the imagination and creativity of the rooting and dazzling fans.

Roller Derby draws and gets fans up and moving; like the more rough sports such as football and ice hockey!

Seeing it is believing it, the hard and rough punishment players take. But like any other rough sports, players are conditioned to take the brutal beatings of elbow blocks, leg blocks, jump blocks, hard falls, jumping and tripping over skaters and getting knocked over the rail, which is all part of the game.

Excitement in the game itself is stimulated by the fans in the stand.

Social Security in the Plus Years

How old must I be before I draw Social Security benefits? What is the maximum amount I can receive? May I continue to work and still draw benefits? All these questions and more face us as we draw closer to retirement.

Adding to the confusion is the fact that the Social Security ground rules keep changing. Each session of Congress sees changes or increases being made which ultimately may affect you when the time comes for you to retire or which affect those already drawing benefits.

One of the greatest misconceptions about Social Security is the idea that these benefits will be large enough to meet all our financial needs. The Social Security program was never designed to do that. Originally, the program was designed to supplement additional income from private pensions, financial holdings and cash reserves. Over the years, as more and more classes of employees were covered, it became apparent that the original assumption was incorrect.

Today there are scores of older people whose sole source of income is their Social Security benefit, mainly because they worked for many years at low wages in jobs where no pension plans were available and they were not able to save money for retirement. In looking forward to retirement, therefore, consider Social Security benefits as only a part of your financial support. Social Security should be supplemented by private pensions and other sources of income.

The Social Security Act provides for a number of insurance coverages but here we will deal with the Old Age and Survivor's Insurance which has the greatest impact upon those of us who are retired. The OASI program provides a monthly benefit based on a rather complicated formula. The formulas change periodically so the best idea is to contact your local office of the Social Security Administration and have your benefit amount figured for you.

Both men and women are now eligible to draw reduced benefits at age 62, but if they wait until age 65, they can draw full benefits. As of January 1, 1973, a person can continue working and earn up to $2,100 a year of $175 a month and not lose any benefits. Once you earn over that amount, you lose one dollar of your Social Security benefit for every two dollars you earn.

Medicare is another important part of the OASI program. Part A covers a certain amount of hospitalization and medical care, with definite limitations on coverage. Make sure you understand what Medicare covers and what it doesn't cover. All elderly Social Security beneficiaries under OASI receive this coverage automatically. Part B covers a portion of the physicians' fees as well as fees of some other health practitioners. You must apply separately for this coverage and pay a small monthly charge. Both these coverages have limitations. All necessary information on rates and covrages is available at your local Social Security office.

When applying for Social Security benefits, you must have legitimate proof of your age. The best record is your birth certificate, but a baptismal record, duly recorded, is acceptable, and there are other ways to verify your birth date. You should get in touch with your local Social Security Administration office for what is acceptable proof for verification of age before making your formal application.

Remember, the best resource is the local Social Security Administration office itself. Do not depend upon the well-intentioned, but often misleading, information of family and friends. A simple telephone call to your local office will bring you accurate information.

"NEWEST REDSKIN".—Duane Thomas (47), the newest Washington Redskin, stands apart from the rest of the team during the playing of the National Anthem prior to the first exhibition game with Detroit in Washington. Thomas made his first appearance in an NFL game since helping the Dallas Cowboys to the Super Bowl title in January 1972.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Beaver:

The Black Culture Workshop here at Washington Corrections Center, was founded with the idea of self-improvement and unity for the brothers here as well as in the society at large. It is an organization that has stumbled and hobbled along through ineptness and inexperience, scorned by many, ridiculed and rebuffed by the general populace, and held at minimum activities for growth.

Through all the throes and woes of the Culture, one man has stood against many, against innumerable odds, and a man we will indeed miss as our sponsor. We speak of Mr. John L. Holliday, the lone black counselor at this training center.

Mr. Holliday (Doc) has served as buffer, mediator, and laisson for the Culture (as well as the general population here, both black and white) between staff, administration and residents. He has been more than a father to many and a shining light to all. Doc has devoted himself, his time, and his very being to the cause of the Black Culture Workshop. He has shown us here that with perseverance, we too can make it.

It is increasingly apparent that we shall lose this wonderful man, and with this loss, we will be losing that which gave us strength, but strength he has instilled in us all, and we shall carry on.

During the early part of July as Doc motored down the highway toward a much deserved vacation, by radio he was informed of the riot that was taking place here. Doc turned his car around stating...."I MUST SEE ABOUT MY BOYS," he returned and hasn't gotten to take that vacation yet, that's the man we call Doc Holliday.

Thank you Doc.

Advising and registration for students at Fort Steilacoom Community College begins September 18, by appointment only, according to Tom Sobottka, Registrar.

"Returning students can register September 18 and 19. New students will register September 25 and 26," Sobottka said.

Fall quarter classes start Oct. 3. Late registration is scheduled for Oct. 2, with a $5.00 late fee.

WE ALL HAVE a right to be wrong in our opinions, but not in our facts.

Voters Wanted

There are more than 1000 new registered voters in the Tacoma area today, due to the efforts of the Tacoma Urban League's Citizenship Education/Voter Registration Project. The project, directed by Lawanna B. Lee, has been concentrating on voter registration since July, and while citizens will continue to be registered in September and October, the project will shift its emphasis to Citizenship Education.

The first activities of this educational phase are the brief classes that are presently being held on how to operate a voting machine. Anyone may attend the free classes which are held each Monday and Wednesday at 2:00 p.m., 4:00 p.m., and 6:00 p.m. Transportation will be provided for the 2:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. classes when needed. These classes are held at the Citizenship Education/Voter Registration office, 4601 Pacific Avenue, telephone 474-0501.

In summer do not let cooked poultry sit around before or after a picnic or a family meal. Many an epidemic of food poisoning has been traced to improperly cared-for poultry.

RON DACUS TRIO --- Returned to the Ft. Lewis Main N.C.O. Club Lounge last week and the members and guests had a wonderful time. The reason? He had two wonderful people out front--Sheron and Glenn.

Big Mac The Wee-Do--Northwest's No. 1 DJ, starred with Jonah's Whale Saturday night at Perl's Pavilion in Bremerton and put on a dynamic show.

All local bands saw action over the week. JONAH'S WHALE opened up Pearl's Pavilion on Arsnal Way. The place was jammed with sailors from the U.S.S. Enterprise carrier, local citizens and some from Tacoma. The Bremerton NAACP sponsored these affairs every weekend 11 p.m. to 4 a.m. Paul Richardson appeared at the Main N.C.O. Club Wednesday, and who was with him? ? the String- Man himself Maurice who is one of the best around. HOT ICE were smoking things up at Branch #3 North Fort Lewis. T. McGhee and the RAPID PULSATION GANG were socking it to them at the Caballeros Club. Remember the new group SMOKING Was showing them what good music is all about at Little Jim's 26th & Pearl. I suggest all you people who are planning your New Year's Eve get your bid-in now. If you don't know their agent, contact this writer by calling 627-8460 9am to 5pm daily. Summer Hearing Conservation Enjoyment of water sports --the favorite summer pastime for millions of Americans--requires respect for common sense safety regulations. And these regulations should include measures to protect participants against hazards to their hearing ability.

This is the advice of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. The crusade, sponsored by Chicago-based Beltone Electronics Corporation, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments, is dedicated to promoting hearing conservation and the control of noise pollution.

For example, outboard boating enthusiasts who power their crafts with unusually loud motors could be subjecting themselves to potentially hazardous sound levels if exposure to the noise is prolonged or continuous. To avoid such a potential risk the crusade officials urge outboard enthusiasts to use protective ear plugs.

Swimmers and water skiiers should remember that ear infections such as "swimmer's ear" and similar maladies deserve the attention of a medical doctor, and not taken lightly or treated with self-prescribed medication.

Also, parents should be particularly alert for their youngsters developing symptoms of ear infections, ear aches or severe head colds. Unless properly treated, these maladies can lead to tragic and sometimes permanent hearing losses.

Build Your Future BUY A HOME

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has many fine acquired homes throughout the Tacoma area, and all over western Washington. Some are nearly new. All are in good condition. All are reasonably priced, with low down payment.

As a homebuyer, you will realize several advantages: the interest you pay is wholly income tax deductible; you will soon build an equity in the value of your home...making your net worth grow; your home is your castle...yours to live in, in your own individual style.

HUD doesn't sell houses, so please don't call HUD for details. All sales are made through professional Real Estate brokers. Almost all licensed Real Estate brokers have complete lists of homes available. They will be glad to help you find the home suitable for you, and to answer all your questions. Call one today. Ask him about HUD availabilities.

CREATIVE SEWING CLASSES TO BEGIN THIS WEEK

"Creative Home Sewing" taught by Mrs. Barbara Munson will begin its fall session this week (September 5th) at the L. H. Bates Vocational-Technical Institute. This three-hour morning class in clothing construction is open to women of all ages and sewing experience and the student may enroll for one or more mornings each week.

This course includes use and care of the sewing machine, pattern and fabric selection, alteration and use of patterns, fitting and construction of garments. Instruction is on an individual basis and each student will make useful garments according to her own ability.

Beginning the week of September 10th, evening sewing classes will be held Monday through Thursday at the Institute and Thursday evening at Lincoln High School. They cover the same type of instruction as the morning "Creative Home Sewing." Evening instructors include Mrs. Marie Anderson, Mrs. Gloria Anderson, Mrs. Betty Repp, Mrs. Olga Smith and Mrs. Eldborg Viker.

There are also limited openings in the full day once-a-week sewing classes, according to Mrs. Jackie Stenger, Supervisor of Home & Family life.

Fees are nominal and persons interested in enrollment may do so by calling the Institute's East Annex Office BR2-9367, Ext. 50 for daytime sewing classes and the Main Office BR2-9367, Ext. 61 for evening sewing classes.

Princess Celebrates

Her Royal Highness The Princess Margaret, Countess of Snowden, joined the festivities in Perthshire, Scotland, recently to mark the entry of Scotland into the European Economic Community.

With whisky and cloth as the two major exports from Scotland, it was quite appropriate that a fashion showing of new styles, all whisky colored--from the deep peat browns of malt whisky to the pale ambers of blended Scotch--was a highlight of the celebration.

Over 300 guests were present at the reception given by the distillers of Teacher's Scotch. Scotch whisky has been Scotland's leading export for several decades.

Bias against whites?

DAYTON, Ohio—A $1.5 million suit has been filed against the City of Dayton by 17 white policemen here, charging city officials with racial discrimination in police department promotional policies.

The officers in the suit, filed here in Montgomery County Common Pleas court, alleged they passed a 1971 promotion examination and were placed on a waiting list that was valid for two years.

The suit charged the police department with allowing the list to expire despite vacancies in the department.

During the two-year period, the officers said, the department was following a policy of promoting only black police officers. That policy was ruled discriminatory last spring.

The 17 officers sought $514,000 in back pay and $1 million in punitive damages.

Defendants named in the suit are Dayton City Manager James Kunde, Police Chief Grover O'Conner, the Dayton Civil Service Commission, the Dayton City Commission and the City of Dayton.

Top wrestler is a Marine

One of the top collegiate wrestlers in the country, a young black named Lloyd Weldon "Butch" Keaser, is learning the "basics" all over again...this time as a Marine.

Keaser, who graduated from the Naval Academy and elected to join the Marines as a second lieutenant, is currently undergoing training at the Corps' Basic School at Quantico, Va.

In wrestling circles, Midshipman Keaser was a well-known name. Raised outside of Baltimore in the small town of Pumphrey about 15 miles from the Academy, Keaser was a wrestling terror in high school. Competing for the Brooklyn Park (Md.) high school, he was the District Champion for two years and the County Champion for three years.

At the Naval Academy, he was in the 149 lb. weight class. As a junior, Keaser won the coveted "Thompson Trophy" award for doing the most to promote athletics at the Academy. In his senior year, he received the Naval Academy's distinguished Athletic's Assn. Sword, given to the graduating senior who has excelled most in sports while at Anapolis.

In 1971, he was ranked as the fourth best wrestler in the nation. A year later, he had moved up to third. For three consecutive years, Keaser was noted as "Best in the East" by the NCAA and was an alternate for the Olympic games in Munich.

Now a Marine second lieutenant, Keaser is still in an atmosphere not unlike college, practicing the skills and knowledge required of a Marine officer.

More and more blacks and other minorities are joining the Corps as officers. Young people seeking more information about Marine Officer Programs should contact their local Marine Corps recruiters.

Like Keaser, they will be directed toward the Marine basic school, if accepted. At any given time, the enrollment of the school is approximately 1,250, with major emphasis being placed on teaching these new officers how to lead others.

NEGRO JOB BLUES

I fooled myself this morning, yesterday, and the day before.
You see I went Job Hunting, and fell upon the truth.
They would say I wasn't qualified or either not enough experience.
But, I know tomorrow I'll get one for I was told there was no hassle,
For you see they need me, to get "Sam" to stop hassling.

WHAT IS LOVE, IN POVERTY?

The essence of your smile reveals to me my most intimate thoughts of my love for you.

With my eyes, I travel the curves of your mouth, and my journey seems endless. It seems to go on and on for miles. Now my eyes are searching for the glimmer of love within your own mirrors of the world, and all I find is the emptiness, and sorrow from poverty in it's place.

Scowling, greenfaced Mr. Yuk comes to Tacoma!

This adhesive backed symbol, a negative version of the smiling face, is designed as a warning to children when affixed on a product or medicine container. Mr. Yuk was developed in 1972 by the Pittsburgh Poison Center as a means by which parents could teach their children to identify and avoid potentially dangerous items.

Mary Bridge Children's Hospital is one of four hospitals in the state of Washington which have adopted Mr. Yuk as a warning symbol. The name and telephone number of the Mary Bridge Poison Information Center are printed around Mr. Yuk's face, thus giving parents rapid access to the number when ingestion of the product is suspected.

Sheets containing 12 Mr. Yuk stickers may be obtained by writing Poison Information Center, Mary Bridge Children's Hospital, 311 South L Street, Tacoma 98405. These also may be obtained in the Gift Mart in the hospital lobby. To help defray costs, a donation of 50¢ per sheet is appreciated.

Alum and lime are not needed to make pickles crisp and firm if good quality ingredients and up-to-date procedures are used.

If you do use lime in pickling, do not use hydrated lime . . . . . it is dangerous and caustic. It is not pure and may contain other harmful ingredients. Also, if any of it is left on the cucumber, it neutralizes the acid from the vinegar and may allow bacteria to grow.

If you do use lime in pickling, use only calcium chloride, calcium lactate, or calcium gluconate- a form of lime that is pure and is purchased at a drugstore.

NEIGHBORS IN THE NEWS

by MRS. V.C. EDWARDS

Vows Taken

Marriage vows were spoken Saturday noon, August 25, by Barbara Greenlee and Alphonzia L. Franklin in the beautiful garden of Mrs. Mable Roberts. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. J.A. Boles.

Given in marriage by Mr. Mose Murphy, a family friend, the bride wore a formal gown of champagne beige cotton lace, with square neckline, wide skirt and large puffed sleeves. She wore a matching picture hat. Her only jewelry was a cameo necklace encased in Alaska black diamond setting with matching earrings, a gift from the bridesmaid. She carried a white Bible upon which were gold and lavender carnations.

The Dialogue Vows were the couples own words of promises to each other. Music for the ceremony was recorded in the church on tape prior to the ceremony by the bridesmaid who played the wedding march and sang the "Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the portable altar, and the bride, who sang "Because" at the conclusion of the vows for a waltz by the bridal couple.

Mrs. Mamie Taylor, Maid of Honor, wore a lavender gown trimmed in white lace, and carried gold and lavender carnations. Mrs. Mable Roberts, Matron of Honor and hostess for the occasion wore a lavender lace gown with a gold and lavender corsage.

Adolphus Greenlee II, son of the bride, was best man.

A buffet luncheon was served immediately after the ceremony. A three-tier wedding cake top with two white doves was a gift from the Matron of Honor.

Assisting in serving were Mesdames Charles Walker, George Johnson, Lawrence Gray, Miss Callie Marshall and Mrs. Ann Carter.

The groom is a graduate of Miles College, Birmingham, Alabama, with a degree in Criminology. He is a Supervisor for the Federal Bureau of Justice. The bride is a graduate of P.L.U., Tacoma, Washington, with a degree in Social Science. She is employed in the Education Dept. at Fort Lewis.

The couple will reside at 1907 East 62nd St.

OUR REAL enemies are the people who make us feel so good that we are slowly, but inexorably, pulled down into the quicksand of smugness, of self-satisfaction.

MEDITATION

Love is patient and kind; love is not jealous or boastful; it is not arrogant or rude. Love does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice at wrong, but rejoices in the right.

YOUNG GIRL CAPTURES RAPIST

While waiting for a bus, a young attractive girl was grabbed from behind and dragged into an alley. As her assailant tried to rip her dress off, she fired one burst at his face. Instantly he let her go and staggered around blindly, coughing and gasping. He later confessed to raping over a dozen women in the area. IT TAKES COURAGE

To refrain from gossip when others about you delight in it.

To stand up for an absent person who is being abused.

To live honestly within your means and not dishonestly on the means of others.

To be a real man, a true woman, by holding fast to your ideals when it causes you to be looked upon as strange and peculiar.

To be talked about and yet remain silent when a word could justify you in the eyes of others, but which you cannot speak without injury to another.

To refuse to do a thing which is wrong, though others do it.

To live according to your convictions.

To dress according to your income and to deny yourself what you cannot afford to buy.
